BORLEY Chief®

ELEMENT 13OMB-1

A universal element that feels at home in any kitchen. The aesthetic qualities of this spacious cabinet accentuate the long lines in a kitchen design. This effect emphasizes length and makes a space appear larger. Because the design is tranquil, the element complements any arrangement. Additionally, the countertop seamlessly extends into the next element.

The unique drawer size of 1.30 meters creates ample storage space. This cabinet is also ideal for accommodating a larger barbecue. Consider placing a top-mount gas barbecue on the countertop or a kamado. Even if you choose that, the lower soft-close drawer can still be fully utilized. In the top soft-close drawer, two practical storage compartments are created around the barbecue. Ample room.

BORLEY Chief Edge®

ELEMENT 130ZB-1

This wide element stands out with its coarse industrial frame, giving it a robust appearance that becomes a defining feature of the cabinet. Crafted in the BORLEY workshop, the 8-centimeter recessed stainless steel profile showcases a unique technique, setting this Industrial frame apart.

What sets this wide element apart is its unconventional design choice: the absence of a countertop. Instead, the cabinet's top is fashioned from aluminum, finished in the same coating as the rest of the kitchen, ensuring a cohesive look. This design choice makes the element particularly suitable for hosting a cooking appliance, such as a barbecue, without compromising on space. The generously sized 1.30-meter drawer beneath provides extensive storage options, all concealed behind the convenience of soft-close drawers. This thoughtful design keeps the focus squarely on the kitchen's industrial aesthetic, highlighting its unique charm.

BORLEY Center®

ELEMENT 13OMB-2

This creative element excels as a decorative feature, blending functionality with aesthetic appeal. The central section, spanning 60 centimeters, can accommodate either a cabinet door or a pair of drawers, each equipped with a soft-close mechanism for smooth operation. On either side, the choice is yours: opt for shelves for additional display space or a dedicated compartment for firewood, adding a practical yet atmospheric touch perfect for complementing your fireplace or wood-fired pizza oven. The continuous countertop design ensures a seamless integration with your space.

BORLEY Top[®]

ELEMENT 12OZB

Capture attention with authenticity. This specialized cabinet is crafted for gas barbecues featuring front-facing controls, accommodating any brand or size. Designed for the outdoor culinary enthusiast, it boasts a lower profile yet provides ample storage within its soft-close doors for multiple gas bottles.

Opting for a gas barbecue combines practicality with aesthetic appeal, breaking the monotony of your outdoor kitchen's design by highlighting the cooking area. Should your barbecue include a gas burner, it further enriches your outdoor kitchen's traditional vibe. With an integrated adaptable feature, this 1.20-meter-wide unit offers the versatility to update your barbecue setup in the future, ensuring a seamless blend of style and functionality.

BORLEY Pillar Edge®

ELEMENT 60STH

Introducing an imposing wood storage solution, characterized by broad industrial frames that command attention. This towering element exceeds the height of the kitchen, transforming it into a centerpiece that effortlessly steals the spotlight. Integrating this piece into your outdoor kitchen design instantly injects a robust vibe, underscoring the space's industrial flair.

Wood logs are more than just functional; they are a key aesthetic and atmospheric element for any outdoor area, fueling everything from your patio fireplace to a wood-fired pizza oven. Beyond utility, wood introduces a warm, inviting essence to your setting. This element not only looks sturdy but also boldly defines the space's character and tone.

BORLEY Space[®]

ELEMENT 1OMB

This element is key to creating space between different parts of the outdoor kitchen; serving as a practical filler as needed in the layout. Often essential for fitting the kitchen into available spaces or for adding necessary distance in corner setups—preventing, for example, drawers from colliding.

Not only functional, this element also enhances the kitchen's design. By positioning filler pieces around a cooking area, it accentuates the chosen style and the barbecue unit. Its use, while subtle, plays a crucial role in the kitchen's functionality and aesthetic. The element is also a beautiful way to accentuate certain design choices in the outdoor kitchen. By placing two filler pieces around a cooking element, you further emphasize the style and barbecue of the central element. However you use it, this element always serves a surprisingly important function.

BORLEY Side®

ELEMENT STL

A vertical countertop that enriches the side of your outdoor kitchen. This is not only a feast for the eyes but also provides extra protection. This element is available in the same hard, scratch-resistant material as all our countertops. This way, you can extend the countertop all the way to the ground. Especially when the kitchen is freestanding, this is a stylish design choice.

This element is also available in a stainless steel variant. In that case, you can match it with the color of the kitchen, or create a two-tone color scheme by choosing a different color. A third possibility is a powder-coated side. This makes the side more durable and the appearance more authentic.

Available in stainless steel, with powder coating options and compatible with various types of countertops, such as:

BORLEY'S TASTE NO.1

A light-colored, mottled countertop with both grey and sand tones. That characterizes BORLEY's Taste No.1. This exclusive countertop is primarily a light grey concrete look, as if sprinkled with fine herbs in a warm shade. Hence, this countertop deserves the name 'Spicy Blend.' The natural mix of cool and warm colors gives the countertop, and thus your outdoor kitchen, character. A light kitchen also provides a modern, calming appearance. In short: BORLEY's Taste No. 1 is a countertop that keeps you looking.

BORLEY'S TASTE NO.2

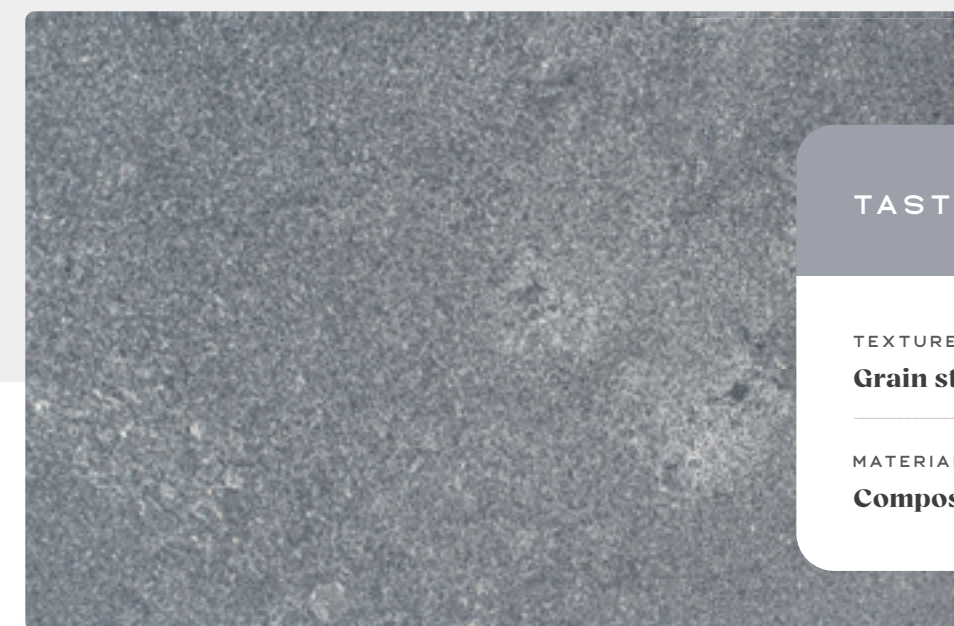

Black is the color of prestige, authority, and elegance. An apt description for the appearance of BORLEY's Taste No. 2. Where kitchens are usually white, the trend of black kitchens creates a countermovement. This makes the 'Black Sensation' countertop eccentric. The matte black countertop has a slight relief but is otherwise uniform in color. The choice of deep black ensures that your outdoor kitchen becomes an exclusive eye-catcher. With BORLEY's Taste No. 2, you create more contrast in your garden or outdoor space, resulting in a more intense taste experience.

BORLEY'S TASTE NO.3

You don't become a classic just like that. And BORLEY's Taste No. 3 has certainly earned that title. This famous countertop is a popular choice for outdoor kitchens. The 'Cool Classic' is a grey-colored countertop with a concrete look. As the name suggests, it gives your outdoor kitchen a cool appearance. Therefore, BORLEY's Taste No. 3 can be beautifully combined with warm tones, such as wood-colored fronts. If we can learn anything from outdoor cooking, it's that contrasting ingredients complement each other beautifully.

BORLEY's Taste No. 20 offers a light grey, polished countertop with a subtle marble aesthetic. The brilliant shine and distinctive crystal structure combine to create a majestic appearance. Aptly named 'Rare Gloss,' this countertop showcases elegant veins in dark and light shades, drawing inspiration from natural stone marble. Each countertop is truly unique, with its own distinctive characteristics. Beneath the surface, the material boasts a rich texture, adding depth and intrigue. Much like a dish that continually surprises, BORLEY's Taste No. 20 delights with its layers of complexity.

The woody taste of liqueur

BORLEY'S TASTE NO.21

A woody taste gives wines, ports, and liqueurs an unmistakable character, a character echoed in BORLEY's Taste No. 21. Within the pattern of this dark marble-look countertop, intriguing structures reveal themselves, evoking not only stone but also the essence of wood and the forest. The green glow of the 'Woody Nature' countertop further enhances this natural aesthetic. With its glossy finish, BORLEY's Taste No. 21 strikes a balance between resilience and elegance, embodying both robustness and chic sophistication.
